

Suburban Propane Joins Forces with Warren County Habitat for Humanity as a Framer Sponsor, Volunteers For Habitat Build Day

WHIPPANY, N.J., Sept. 20, 2024 /PRNewswire/ -- Suburban Propane Partners, L.P. (NYSE: SPH), a nationwide distributor of propane, renewable propane, renewable natural gas, fuel oil and related products and services, as well as a marketer of natural gas and electricity and investor in low carbon fuel alternatives, volunteered at a new construction site with Warren County Habitat for Humanity. As a Framer Sponsor for the organization, Suburban Propane's employee volunteers actively supported the local build site. Assemblyman John DiMaio (NJ District 23) was also in attendance, offering his support and appreciation to the crew of volunteers. Warren County Habitat for Humanity is dedicated to eliminating substandard housing locally and globally by constructing, rehabilitating, and preserving homes; advocating for fair housing policies; and providing training and resources to help families improve their living conditions.

"Each one of our volunteers is instrumental to the success of Warren County Habitat for Humanity, from our ReStore volunteers to our construction crew," said Brittany Powelson, Volunteer Services and Public Relations Manager at Warren County Habitat for Humanity. "We are so grateful for Suburban Propane's support, both from their generous donation and their assisting our build crew on site! We're glad they could have the experience of helping to build our newest Partner Family's home."

"For Suburban Propane, volunteering with Warren County Habitat for Humanity represents more than a chance to give back; it is an opportunity to foster hope and enhance lives within our community," stated Nandini Sankara, Spokesperson for Suburban Propane. "Standing alongside Habitat for Humanity in our home state of New Jersey underscores our commitment to the communities we serve, and we encourage others to participate in this significant endeavor."
